

Notes to the “Can tigers survive in human-dominated landscapes?” reader.

- Chapter 3: The article is still in prep. Once accepted by the journal this section will be updated.
- Chapters 2 to 5 are published articles and the data and supporting information about these articles are available on the online repositories of the journals. Check with journals and if you have problems contact me.
- Chapter 3 is in preparation for submission to a journal at the time of printing of this thesis. The final published article may be restructured to accommodate the journal's style and therefore may look slightly different than the version presented in the book, but will not impact the findings. After publishing, data, supporting information and an elaborate Appendix with tables and graphs will be available for download from the journal.
- The book will be made available for sale after March 2017.
- The author of this book, Shekhar Kolipaka can be directly contacted for any relevant questions on the book. E-mail: kolipaka.s.s@gmail.com
